

Dachambo

DACHAMBO is a five-piece Japanese psychedelic jam rock band. Members are Ao (Guitar & Vocals), Hata (Manipulator), Eiji (Bass & Chorus), Yao (Drums & Percussion) and Omi (Didgeridoo & Chorus) .

They are currently riding a wave of success and grabbing a lot of attention in Japan for their live performances including many showstoppers at The Fujirock Festival in Japan 2010 , 2011,2014 and woodford folk festival Australia 2011 .2014

They drew the biggest dancing audience of any band at the festival and have been invited back 5 times Fujirock festival since 2005 and 2 times Woodford folk festival.

In 2011, on their tenth anniversary, they organized a festival called Herbesta to help those affected by the Great East Japan Earthquake that occurred the same year. It was a free event hosting over 70 artists and 10,000 people. They also supported other charity events, performing at many shows where all their proceeds were donated to those in need due to the disaster.

2017 USA Tour

Performed in front of an audience of 10,000 people on the main stage of the Oregon Eclipse 2017, a large-scale festival hosting 60,000 people. In this tour, they were also invited to Burning Man 2017 at Revervia stage.

Their musical style is greatly influenced by many types of World and International music, rock, funk and fusion and Electro music.

Dachambo are known as pioneers in Japan of blending diverse sounds into alternative dance music. Their live shows are legendary.

If you want to dance, come on over. If you want to get blown away, come on over. Their sounds will make a rainbow in the sky, their rhythm will awaken the land.

May 16th to 19th, 2019

Invited to Joshua Tree Music Festival '19, they will once again tour the US. (Tour dates below)

To date, Dachambo has released eight full albums, five LP's and three DVD's. Their music is available digitally all over the world on platforms including Apple Music, iTunes Store and Beatport.
